

To Teaching Turkish for Foreigners, Additional Verbs with Training, Teaching And Application Samples

Mehmet Kahraman

Tuzla University/ Tuzla, Bosnia and Herzegovina

Key words: teaching Turkish to foreigners, teaching of an additional verb, the functional instruction.

ABSTRACT

Turkish as a foreign language teaching continues to increase with each passing day date. Addition to the actual state of teaching Turkish to foreigners, teaching and textbooks application like? First reading, writing and the reading, writing, speaking can be evaluated in comprehension terms of the situation? Teaching method, teaching Turkish to foreigners in a functional language, you must first determine a method of student-centered, then according to this method of text selection, application examples, to determine the effectiveness of teaching and learner, and then to study the application and sampling should be based on. At this point, the current sample application and sample books, teaching Turkish to foreigners due diligence studies will be. In particular act is referred to as a verb addition to teaching Turkish to foreigners focusing on how to function with a function that will take place, as well as how to teach and where to find the distribution of the subject matters will be discussed.