

Phrases Regarding Animals in Greek And Serbian Language

Ivana Milojevic

University of Belgrade/ Belgrade, Serbia

Key words: phrases, greek and serbian language, cultural specificity

ABSTRACT

This paper deals with comparative analysis of the phrases in Greek and Serbian language, which have as their object an animal. It also analyses idioms in Greek language from both, semantic and cultural aspect, trying to find their counterparts in Serbian language and in that way confirm the exceptional closeness of two cultures, on the other hand, there have been found the expressions that have no equivalents in Serbian language due to their cultural specificity.